FUTURE OF SPACE

Following Andrea
Sommariva's footsteps

Annual Event of Space
Economy Evolution (SEE)
Lab

Auditorium Grande
Via Sarfatti, 10

10.00 AM • 13.00 PM CET

The SEE Lab Annual Event 2022 is aimed at commemorating the great contribution of Andrea Sommariva's research activities on space economy and at launching the Lab's future program with the welcoming of its new Director.

The SEE Lab was born to provide space-oriented businesses, non-space industries, financial operators and public actors with the indepth understanding and strategic insights necessary to leverage the opportunities presented by the evolution of the space industry.

Carrying forward the legacy of Giovanni Bignami and Andrea Sommariva, the Lab will continue pursuing a robust interdisciplinary research approach and the strengthening of a wide network of partners in order to support key players in the field of space economy in light of future industry-specific and global challenges.
